MEET

Barbara Ector had a work career spanning forty-four (44) years that started with a teaching position in Memphis City Schools, management positions with AT&T and Southwestern Bell, vocational rehabilitation consulting positions with the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) and with Crawford and Company. Her career was most defined by thirty-six (36) years with Cleveland City Schools where she served as a middle school social studies teacher, curriculum coordinator, Principal of the Denning Center, and Dean of Students/Vice Principal at Cleveland High School. Her leadership, compassion, and dedication to the success of every student were evident in all that she did.

Barbara's educational achievements included Bachelor and Master of Science Degrees from George Peabody College for Teachers of Vanderbilt University and the Educational Specialist Degree in Educational Administration from Lincoln Memorial University. Her accolades and awards include:

- Building Level Teacher of the year for 1991, 1997, 2003, 2004 and 2007
- Nominated for Walt Disney Teacher of the Year in 2002 and 2003
- Cleveland City Schools system level Teacher of the year for grades 5-8 (2006/2007)
- One of three in the nation to receive National Civic Education of the Year (2007)
- NAACP John H. Peterson Teacher of the year (2007)
- Tennessee Middle School Social Studies Teacher of the Year (2008)
- National Middle School Social Studies Teacher of the Year (2008/2009)
- East Tennessee Assistant Principal of the Year (2008) by the Tennessee Association of Secondary School Principals

Barbara's highest gratification came from her faith in God and her roles as wife, mother, grandmother and church leader. She served alongside her husband,Aubrey in pastoral ministry for several decades, and with her husband founded Unity Christian Ministries Inc. As a part of her Christian service she has been a counselor, role model and mentor to many. Her passion, energy and compassion were a marvel to behold.

Mrs. Ector was a beloved figure at the front entrance of Cleveland High school, where her "good morning" greetings served as a cherished tradition among students. Reflecting on this daily ritual, Mrs Ector remarked, "You never know what kind of challenges these students are facing."

It is a continuation of that sentiment that we dedicate Barbara's Market to meet needs and help to create more "good mornings" for the students of Cleveland City Schools.

A NOTE ON THE SPECS

Barbara Ector looked out for others and she did it with style. Her glasses were more than just an accessory, they represented her ability to see needs and to foster a nurturing environment where everyone felt valued and understood. Through her lenses, Barbara saw beyond the surface, recognizing the unique challenges and aspirations of each student. As a tribute and a continuance of that special vision, we showcase these glasses as a marker of her ongoing influence in the lives of Cleveland City School students.
